GENERAL WAGNER REFUSES TO TALK

Will not Confirm or Deny Rumor that he is about to Give up Position as Head of Battle Anniversary Commission.

General Louis Wagner, chairman of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission, is reported as on the verge of tendering his resignation but when asked for a definite statement in the matter refused to affirm or deny the rumor.

In his characteristic manner, General Wagner replied when asked whether he would resign "I am still chairman of the Commission and will continue to be so at least until Friday when we are to hold a meeting at the Union League."

The report of the probable resignation of General Wagner gives March first as the time for the action to take effect. Dissension among some of the members of the body, and others closely connected with it, is given as one of the reasons for his contemplated action while the opposition of certain local parties is also declared to be playing a part.

Should the report be correct it will prove gratifying to the opponents of General Wagner in Gettysburg of whom there are a considerable number.

"GETTYSBURG STREET"

The "Topics of the Town" writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger says: "At the annual banquet of the George G. Meade Post, on Saturday night, I happened to be an invited guest. While there I heard a great many of the veterans speak, privately but approvingly, of the suggestion which I made in this column some time ago to the effect that Philadelphia should rename one of its important thoroughfares Gettysburg, in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the most famous battle ever fought on the Western Hemisphere."

"If the Grand Army men really approve the plan, and I do not see why all should not do so, why is it not a fitting thing for Meade Post, and the others as well, to take up the question? Every Pennsylvania veteran must be proud of Gettysburg and the things that Pennsylvania officers and men did there."

"Philadelphia has plenty of street names it can readily spare—but there is now and ever can be but one Gettysburg."

The Ledger further says editorially: "It looks very much like an epidemic of celebrations. We are in a period a century removed from the War of 1812 and a half century from the Civil War. Hundred-year and fifty-year anniversaries will be copiously sprinkled over 1913, 1914 and 1915 and then there are the various enterprises that will make use of the opening of the Panama Canal. However, the Gettysburg affair will be so big that the others will have to do very unusual things to keep up the pace."

SLIGHT INJURY CAUSED DEATH

Young Brushtown Boy Dies from Apparently Minor Injury Sustained Last August. In Hospital for Many Weeks.

From the effects of injuries received last August and, at that time considered trifling, Robert E. Warner, the 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Warner, of Brushtown, this county, died in the York hospital, Monday evening, at seven o'clock after months of suffering.

The circumstances which led up to his death are peculiarly distressing. On August 3d, 1912, the milk wagon of Charles H. Eyster, of near McSherrystown, collided with a buggy, of which Mrs. Warner and her young son were occupants, on a road near McSherrystown. As a result, Mrs. Warner was thrown from the buggy, sustaining a number of bruises, while her son's left leg, which was on the outside of the buggy box, was caught by the front wheel of the Eyster wagon. The limb was severely sprained, though no serious results were anticipated. The injuries were dressed by Dr. A. C. Rice, and the lad limped about the house for several weeks.

The doctor, fearing complications, removed the lad to the York Hospital, several weeks later, where, upon examination, it was found that the bone was diseased. A portion of the bone was removed and bone-grafting resorted to. The wound however, never healed, and another operation was performed on Monday, from the shock of which the little fellow never recovered, and death ended his sufferings.

He was a most cheerful patient, and became a great favorite with the nurses and hospital employees during his long stay at the institution.

The body was taken to the home of his parents Tuesday evening, from where the funeral will be held Friday, Feb. 28. After brief services at the house at 12:30 p. m., the remains will be conveyed to Bart's meeting-house, in Union township, where further services and interment will be made, Rev. S. A. Crabill, pastor of the United Brethren church, Hanover, officiating.

FOR NEW ROAD IN UPPER END

Bill Introduced in State Senate Providing that State Take over Road through Mount Tabor. How they Voted.

Among the new bills presented in the State Senate was one by Senator Hoke, of the Adams-Franklin district, authorizing the State Highway Department to take over a section of public road in Adams and Cumberland counties. The state road thus acquired would extend from Mount Tolly Springs by way of Hunters Run and Alga to a point on the dividing line between Cumberland and Adams counties and thence by way of Mount Tabor to Bendersville.

This new road, if ever authorized, will supply a portion of the county with a state highway, which was cut out of the original Sproul bill, after a keen contest. As a substitute for this route another was adopted sending the road from Bendersville by way of Aspers and Idaville.

The road as provided in Mr. Runk's bill will take the highway from Gettysburg through Biglerville and Bendersville straight through Mount Tabor and over the Cumberland County line, while the road provided in the Sproul bill will reach the other section.

Mr. Runk voted for the re-appointment of E. M. Bigelow as state highway commissioner. Mr. Collins, assemblyman, voted against the Local Option bill which was defeated.

TIMES SECOND PRIZE ESSAY

Miss Mae Belle Little's Essay which Won Second Prize in The Gettysburg Times Essay Contest. Many Suggestions.

We take pleasure in publishing herewith the essay of Miss Mae Belle Little which took second prize in The Gettysburg Times contest: The subject is "What Should a Small Town Daily Newspaper Contain?"

Before the printing press was invented or even thought of, people printed what they had to say on parchment which was unfolded as it was read. As this was very tedious and took such a long time there was only one paper and all those who wished to hear it gathered together in one place. One person read it until he was tired then another began where he left off and so on to the end. Later the paper was printed by a single movable type which was dipped in the ink and then placed on the paper. But this way was also long so they could only get out a monthly paper and then only a few copies. Later the printing press was invented but still they could not print as fast as we do now, for new improvements have been invented and patented; so we have today perfect and speedy machinery such as the linotype. A daily newspaper was unheard of in those days, but today it is nothing unusual. Most of the large cities have a daily paper, while even some towns of a few thousand have a daily paper. Our daily paper is of more interest to us than any other for it contains things that concern us.

The daily newspaper in a small town should contain an editorial. The editorial gives the editor's point of view on the questions that concern us, and we are thus able to get an opinion of him and his paper. Often the editorial contains facts of the greatest interest. The daily paper should contain advertisements of our town and county people. (For a daily paper is sure to reach the country people). The country people can see what the town people have to sell and the price, and the town people can see what the country people have to sell, so the commodities can be bought or exchanged to the best advantage. The horticulturist and agriculturist would appreciate any fact or method pertaining to horticulture or agriculture, for many an item published in the daily paper has met with success. Mention should also be made of the sales.

The daily newspaper in a small town should contain the general happenings through the town and country. The social happenings such as dances, weddings and parties should be mentioned for every one enjoys reading them. Accidents, such as hunting accidents, runaways and deaths should be mentioned for although we do not not like to read them we should know so we could do all in our power to help the people and sympathize with them.

Drunkenness, carousals, thefts and murder are of most interest to all, yet for the influence they have upon minds it would be better if they were omitted. But in a small town like this it is hard to print a newspaper without mentioning them for they are common occurrences.

Politics should be mentioned for every one is interested in them. Take for example the recent presidential election. The issue of the daily was eagerly awaited, for every one was anxious to know the returns of the election.

A column once in a while could be given to fashion for every young lady is interested in it. Perhaps by this addition the paper would secure more lady subscribers. Some recipes could be given for many a young housewife who is thrown upon her own resources would welcome the daily more gladly than before. A space could be devoted to the children, which should contain riddles, jokes and conundrums; as well as a space given to the old people, which should contain things that interest them.

The daily newspaper should contain a summary of the proceedings of the court. Education is another important factor for the daily newspaper. All parents are interested in the welfare of their children and read with delight and gratification anything pertaining to them, such as attendance, progress, rank and competition for prizes, for this raises their education for they more carefully and thoroughly prepare for them. The most important current events, the best stories, and the most beautiful pieces of poetry and prose should appear from time to time.

The announcements of the various churches should appear, such as the hours of service, theme and name of pastor. Everyone is interested in the improvements around us. The daily newspaper always should give an account of the improvements of the town such as parks, pavements, public and private buildings, shade trees and even hitching posts. Often we would not know of the improvements except through the newspaper. If one sees by the daily paper that a person has improved his property it is not long until his neighbors begin to improve their properties, for they do not like to see their neighbor have a more beautiful home than theirs. By this the town is made beautiful.

The daily paper has a great responsibility resting upon it, for it has a tendency to produce good citizenship, for no one knows now what responsible position one of its readers may obtain and will no doubt attribute their success to the Gettysburg Times for its good influence. So we wish it to have every success and a prosperous career.

REBELS CONTROL NUEVO LAREDO

Mexico Closes Port of Entry on Texas Border.

DIAZ PICTURES RESTORED

Huerta Orders Portraits of Old Dictator Replaced in Public Buildings. Madero Sails For Cuba.

Mexico City, Feb. 26.—The Mexican government formally declared closed the place of entry at Nuevo Laredo, on the Texas frontier, at the same time admitting that the rebels were in possession of the town.

Various deputations of followers of the rebel Zapata conferred with Provisional President Huerta preparatory to entering into co-operation with the new government.

It is officially declared that with the exception of three states in the most southeasterly part of the republic, all the states of Mexico have recognized the new administration.

Lively activity on the part of rebels continues in many parts, but the government is not alarmed over this, as negotiations for peace have been begun with all the more important bands.

Senora Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and Senora Francisco I. Madero, Sr., the wife and mother of the late president of Mexico, reached Vera Cruz on a special car from Mexico City. They were escorted by the Cuban minister and went immediately on board the Cuban cruiser Cuba. There they met Francisco I. Madero, Sr., and Ernesto Madero, who arrived there Monday. As soon as the party had gone aboard the Cuba sailed for Havana.

The departure of the two women from Mexico was with the consent of the Mexican government.

The members of the Madero family intend to remain in Havana for some days, and will then go to New Orleans. Their ultimate destination is Europe.

The revival of the Diaz influence in Mexico is indicated by an order issued by Provisional President Huerta that all portraits of former President Porfirio Diaz be restored to the places in public buildings from which they were removed by order of Madero. Several large pictures of the old dictator were replaced immediately in the corridors and halls of the national palace.

The new cabinet ministers, anticipating the presidential order, had already ordered pictures of Porfirio Diaz hung on the walls of their various departments.

Railroad communication by way of Laredo is still uncertain. No trains were able to get through, owing to the burning of bridges near San Luis de Potosi. Communication with the United States by way of El Paso is possible, but trains arriving from that direction suffer considerable delay.

There has been no interruption of traffic on the line between the federal capital and Vera Cruz.

EXECUTE 95 REBELS

Mexican Soldiers Stood Against an Adobe Wall and Shot.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 26.—Ninety-five federal volunteer soldiers were executed at Sanz, below Juarez.

They compose part of the garrison which revolted, angered at the killing of former President Madero, their former leader.

One at a time the soldiers were lined up against an adobe wall. Ninety-five times the firing squad aimed and fired. Most of the men are said to have displayed much courage, declining the execution mask.

More than fifty of the garrison escaped before the arrival of a strong detachment of federal regular troops from Chihuahua City. The rebels of a day had cut the Mexican Central railway, which was repaired a few hours later. Five of the volunteer officers escaped death and will be sent to Juarez.

TWO EXPLORERS DIE IN ANTARCTIC

Lieut. Ninnis and Dr. Merz Succumb in Ice.

THE DETAILS ARE LACKING

The Head of Expedition Alive, With Six of His Companions, Are Returning.

Sydney, N. S. W., Feb. 26.—Some where within the frozen Antarctic, not far from the magnetic pole, two more lives have been sacrificed to the cause of South Polar exploration.

A brief wireless message from the little relief ship Aurora, of the Mawson expedition, from the neighborhood of Adelie Land, received in Sydney, announces the deaths of two prominent members of Professor Mawson's party, Lieutenant R. E. S. Ninnis, of the British army, and Dr. Herz, the Swiss ski champion. How the two men met death the dispatch does not say.

The Aurora, which is a sailing ship, had gone to bring out Dr. Mawson and several of his men who had left the main party temporarily. Some unfortunate circumstances, believed to have been the sudden closing in of the ice, prevented the explorers from regaining the ship, the message states, and Dr. Mawson and the six men with him will winter on Adelie Land. They are well, according to the report, and have accomplished some important explorations along the shores of Wilkes Land by means of sledging expeditions.

Lieutenant Ninnis belonged to the city of London regiment of the Royal Fusiliers. He was a friend of Captain Lawrence Oates, of the Inniskilling Dragoons, the British officer who lost his life returning from the South Pole with the Scott expedition. He served the Mawson party as an expert in sledging and surveying.

Dr. Herz was hardly less well known as a sportsman than as a scientist. He won the Swiss ski championship in 1908, and his endurance and expertness in long journeys over snow and ice qualified him to act as a scientific aide to the leader of the expedition.

The Aurora, with Dr. Mawson on board, was known to have been on its way to pick up Dr. Wilde, a former member of both the Scott and Shackleton expeditions, who with several companions had been left at the foot of Termination Glacier in 1912. It is believed in Sydney that Dr. Mawson, with a half dozen men, landed and ventured on a side excursion, from which they did not return in time to regain the vessel.

The wireless message received in Sydney was addressed to Dr. T. W. E. David, professor of geology in the University of Sydney, and himself the Antarctic explorer who led the party which reached the South Magnetic Pole in January, 1909. This is the dispatch from Adelie, which was relayed at McMurrie Island.

Dr. Douglas Mawson and several of his men missed the Aurora, which had gone to fetch them, under the command of Captain J. K. Davis. This happened owing to unfortunate circumstances. Lieutenant B. E. S. Ninnis, of the city of London regiment of Royal Fusiliers, and Dr. Herz, who was ski champion of Switzerland in 1908, members of the expedition, are both dead. The others are well.

Dr. Douglas Mawson and six other members of his party probably will winter in Adelie Land. Some very successful sledging expeditions were made during the sojourn of Dr. Mawson and his companions in the Antarctic.

Illinois Miners Vote $500,000 to West Virginia Men.

The vote was unanimous and was greeted by cheering, delegates standing in seats, waving arms and clapping hands.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

WILSON RESIGNS AS N. J. GOVERNOR

He Will Quit Office at Noon on Saturday.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 26.—President-elect Wilson resigned as governor of New Jersey. His resignation will take effect at noon on Saturday.

The governor wrote his resignation in long hand and sent it by his secretary, Mr. Tumulty, to David S. Crater, the secretary of state. At the same time he sent a message to both houses of the legislature notifying them of his act.

"I shall have the pleasure of being a private citizen for just three days," remarked Mr. Wilson. "I think," he added, with a smile, "I shall celebrate the fact by turning a landspring just to show that I have no dignity of office to maintain."

Mr. Wilson will attend the ceremonies at noon Saturday, when his successor, James F. Fielder, president of the state senate, will take the oath as acting governor.

Next Monday Acting Governor Fielder will leave the state, and the speaker of the house, Leon R. Taylor, will be sworn into office as acting governor. Thus for a short period New Jersey will have the youngest governor in its history. In fact, so young that had he been elected by the votes of the people he would not be eligible to serve.

MOTHER AND 3 CHILDREN DIE

Parent Dies in Vain Effort to Save Her Little Ones.

Huntingdon, Pa., Feb. 26.—The wife of Howard Fisher, a carpenter, and three of her children were burned to death in their home, in South Huntingdon.

Then, frantically, she ran to a rear window and, although seized by two men, succeeded in throwing herself into the flaming interior in the first floor. In this manner she met her death with her little ones whom she was unable to save.

The husband was absent from home and an eight-year-old daughter, who is deaf and dumb, was the only one saved from the flames.

A HARD WINTER

For People In Poor Health. Winter with its sudden changes is particularly trying for old people or those who suffer from a weakened, run-down condition, chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, but if such persons would only apply common sense methods in the treatment of their condition, much discomfort and suffering might be avoided.

The most essential thing to do is to build up strength, enrich the blood, increase vital resistance and to accomplish this nothing equals Vinol, our cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Mrs. H. Hartman of Albany, N. Y., says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a great tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

Old people, delicate children run-down, over-worked and tired women, those suffering from chronic coughs and colds should try a bottle of Vinol. We will return your money if it does not help you. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Penna. P. S. For Eczema of Scalp try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.
